FROM EUROPE.

Prorogation of he British Parliament—The Queen's Speech—Ministerial Crisis in Spain—Russia and Bokhara—Cereals Free in French Ports—Compromise Between the Tycoon and Mikado in Japan.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, July 31.–The session of Parliament was prorogued to-day. The Queen was not present and her speech was made by the Royal Commission and read as usual by the Lord Chancellor. It speaks of the foreign relations of Great Britain as most friendly and satisfatory, and says there is no reason to fear a war in Europe. No reference is made to the United States. The Abyssinian expedition has vindicated the honor of the Crown. The cessation of the attempts at rebellion in Ireland renders the further use of the exceptional power granted by the two Houses needless.

The Queen thanks the Commons for supplies voted and congratulates them on the passage of the Irish and Scotch reform bills, the public school bill, the bill for the purchase of telegraph wires and others of a less important character. The speech also announces that the dissolution of Parliament will soon take place, in order that the people may reap the advantages of the more extended system of representation recently provided.

In the Commons, previous to prorogation, the Speaker said he had received through the United States legation a letter from Hon. William H. Seward, accompanying which was a splendid copy of a book entitled, "A Tribute of the Nation to the Memory of Abrahan Lincoln,"—a present from the Congress of the United States to the House of Commons. Lord Stanley moved the thanks of the House be sent to Congress through Mr. Seward, and that the book be placed in the library of the House. The motion was carried nem. con.

The Times in a leading editorial says of the session that time only will show if leaders shall retain their status in the change from the old to the new body. Mr. Bright will find the new House of Commons a more congenial audience than in the day of Palmerston or of Gladstone, whose popularity may yet reach on to a house elected by one constituency and doomed to satisfy the requirements of another. The House may be satisfied in spite of all shortcomings with such a work as the abolition of church rates, the punishment for electoral corruption and the condemnation of political and church abuses.

DUBLIN, July 31.—All prisoners who were arrested under the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in Ireland, and detained without trial, have been discharged from custody.

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 31.—The Imperial decree suspends for three months from October 1st the collection of tonnage dues from all vessels entering the French ports with cereals.

PARIS, July 31.—The Senate was to-day prorogued by the Emperor.

The Patrie has an editorial to-day strongly urging the joint intervention of France, Great Britain and the United States for the restoration of peace between Paraguay and the allied South American powers.

SPAIN.

LONDON, July 31.—The pending political troubles in Spain have resulted in a ministerial crisis. It is understood the distinguished Liberal statesman, Espartero, has been summoned to form a new Cabinet, and has gone to Madrid for that purpose. Discontent continues to prevail and threatens to break out into armed insurrection at any moment. The disaffection is also apparent among the officers of the fleet.

RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 31.—Under the preliminary arrangements for peace made with Bokhara, the Russian troops are to leave the country at once, the Khan paying to the Russian government half a million silver roubles as indemnity for the expenses of the war.

JAPAN.

SHANGHAI, July 4.—News from Japan says a compromise has been effected between the Daimos of the North and South, which will probably lead to a speedy termination of hostilities between the Mikado and the Tycoon. No particulars.

FRANKFORT, July 31—Evening.—Bonds have declined to 56f.

Horse Thieves Lynched in Tennessee.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, July 31.—Last evening Constable Day with a guard of three men, bringing two horse thieves, named Christopher N. Bender and Ben Whitfield, from Raleigh to this city for commitment to jail, they having been found riding stolen horses, was suddenly surrounded by about forty masked horsemen, who took the prisoners, and ordering the guard not to follow, left in the direction of Raleigh. This morning the men were found near McCallum's Mill hanging to a tree, with a paper pinned upon them inscribed, "Horse thieves hung by an outraged community."

South Carolina Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

COLUMBIA, July 31.—In the Legislature to-day a proposition to pay the wife of a member supposed to have been murdered by the Ku-Klux Klan five hundred dollars was voted down. The colored leaders say they are determined to represent the people not party. Three-fifths of the Legislature will favor the educational qualification should the proposition be made. Moderation seems to be the order of the day.

GEORGIA.

The Georgia Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ATLANTA, July 30.—The Senate passed a bill to-day concerning the offices of Secretary of State and Surveyor General. A motion to go into executive session was agreed to, and the Chair decided the chamber closed. An appeal from the decision of the Chair was sustained. A message was received from the Governor requesting the privilege to withdraw the communication to the Senate making certain nominations. Pending its consideration, adjourned.

The following was introduced in the House and passed by a large majority:

Inasmuch as the vital question heretofore dividing the members composing this branch of the General Assembly has been settled,

Resolved, We like men having the interest of the State at heart, who bury party prejudices and go forward to the perfect enactment of such laws as will establish peace and harmony among the people of the State.

The Committee of Investigation in the case of Bradley, the colored Senator accused of felony, is in session.

Two colored men are contesting the seats of Representatives Lumlin and Goff.

ATLANTA, GA., July 31.—The Senate resolved to-day to set in secret session. The House proceedings to-day were of a local nature.

Gov. Bullock's grand inauguration ball came off last night at the National Hotel. A large crowd of whites and negroes, numbering some 300, gathered in front of the hotel and cheered for Grant and Colfax. At Republican Hall Joshua Hill made a speech in favor of Grant and Colfax as the only hope for the country.

AUGUSTA, GA., July 30.—Some two thousand citizens were assembled at the City Hall to-day, to petition the Legislature for a city government of law and order. Resolutions were unanimously adopted protesting against the present military appointees, and asking immediate relief. A committee was appointed to present the memorial to the Legislature.

Close of the Buffalo Races.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUFFALO, July 31.—The Buffalo Park Association closed their summer's Trotting Fair to-day with three races for purses amounting to $3,700. The weather has been delightful, the track in fine condition, and the attendance has been good. The attendance to-day was larger than on any previous day.

The first race was for a purse of $2,000, free to all horses—$1,400 to first, $400 to second, and $200 to third—miles heats, best three in five to harness. Only three horses entered. Lucy won in three straight heats easily, Silas Rich second, and Rolla and Gold Dust third. Time—2;25¾, 2:31, 2:27.

The second race was for a purse of $1,200 for double teams, free for all teams owned and driven together as teams three months previous to the fair $750 to the first, $300 to the second, and $150 to the third—mile heats, best three in five. Contrary to all expectations, the double team race was a one-sided affair, Nobockleish and Medoc winning in two heats with the greatest ease, shutting all but Mollie Newton and White Bird on the first heat and distancing that team on the second heat. Time, 2:34 and 2:32¾.

The third race was for a purse of $500, free for all horses four years or under—$350 to first, $100 to second and $50 to third—mile heats, best three in five, in harness. Only three horses started in the race. Cayuga Chief won in three straight heats; Gold Dust second; Silver Cloud third. Time 251, 246 and 242¾.

To-morrow will be extra between Lucy, Billy Boyers, Rolla and Gold Dust to saddle.

Application for Mandamus.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 31.—Hudson E. Bridge, Director of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and who a short time ago enjoined the company from paying any money on account of certain legislation last winter in connection with the purchase of the road from the State, will to-morrow apply for a mandamus to enable him to examine the books and general affairs of the company. The petition states that fraudulent and fictitious vouchers to a large amount had recently been paid out of the monies of the company to one of the directors of the road; that the President of the company some weeks since issued orders to subordinate officers not to allow the inspection of books, records, or papers of the company by anybody without his written permission. Hence the application for a mandamus. The vouchers referred to purport to be for wood and ties alleged to be delivered at points along the road, and are properly certified by Mr. Moore, Superintendent of the road.

Another section of the Kansas Pacific Railway was accepted to-day. The road is now completed to Sheridan, twelve miles this side of Fort Wallace.

George H. Pendleton in Louisville.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, July 31.—Hon. George H. Pendleton arrived at one o'clock to-day, and took a carriage to the Louisville Hotel. A band of music was soon there and serenaded him. He was called on by many of the citizens. Gen. W. Morris introduced him to the citizens from the balcony. He made but a few remarks, thanking the citizens for the reception. He was urged to remain over and speak here to-night. He left the hotel at two o'clock in an open carriage with Governor Stevenson and two of our citizens, and was escorted to the Frankfort depot by a band of music and citizens. His reception here was a very cordial one indeed. He speaks at Frankfort to-morrow at eleven o'clock.

Baron Stoeckel, Russian Minister, accompanied by Assistant Secretary Hunter, called at the Executive Mansion this morning before Cabinet meeting and had an interview with the President.

ALCOHOLIC SPIRITS AND VAPORS.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has issued instructions to suppress the unauthorized production of alcoholic spirits and vapors. He says under section four of the act of July 20th, which he quotes, no article in which alcoholic spirits or alcoholic vapors enter as ingredients can be lawfully manufactured, except such spirits or alcoholic vapors have been produced in an authorized distillery and have paid tax. The largest class of cases affected by this section is the manufacturers of vinegar by various processes.

WASHINGTON TOPICS AND GOSSIP.

Thaddeus Stevens is detained at the capital from illness, but hopes to get home next week.

Mr. Rollins claims the right to name the Supervisors under the new Tax bill, but Secretary M'Culloch and President Johnson differ with him, and there will be a difficulty which will result in the suspension of Mr. Rollins, and the appointment of Mr. Cooper as Commissioner of Internal Revenue ad interim. There are at least one hundred applications for Supervisors on file.

A large number of naval officers will be thrown out of service by the proposed reduction of the Navy.

The large amount of whisky taken out of bond under the new tax caused the internal revenue receipts to run up on Thursday to a million and a half.

Postmaster General Randall will spend several weeks at his new home in Elmira, New York.

Reports of a terrible state of affairs in Texas continue to reach Washington, but the President believes they have a political coloring. The weather is still very warm.

Southern papers just received at Washington congratulate their people on the fact that the orders from President Johnson, substituting military departments for districts, restores the old regime and make him really as well as nominally Commander-in-Chief of the army. Southern men betray uneasiness at the fact that the extraordinary powers vested in the military commanders by the reconstruction acts are at an end, and that the President's hands are no longer fettered; that he can now issue such orders as he chooses to department commanders.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office in reply to inquiries, states that homestead entries can only be made upon surveyed land after a return to the proper district land office of the official plot of the survey; also that the right of a settler under the homestead entry attaches only from the date of entry. Settlers upon unsurveyed land desiring to secure their improvements made prior to the return of the surveys, may obtain priority of right as against subsequent claims under the provisions of the preemption laws laws, by filing a declaratory statement thereof before the expiration of three months after the date of the return of the survey to the district officer.

Judge Blatchford has decided that a mortgage upon a distillery given prior to a seizure of the premises for violation of the revenue laws does not exempt them from seizure.

The divers are at work with a new submarine exploring apparatus at the spot where the English frigate Hussar is supposed to have sunk in 1780. The men remained under water nearly an hour, and succeeded in finding, as they believe, traces of the sunken vessel.

Charles Hartman and Ferdinand Sulsberger, convicted of conspiracy to defraud the revenue, and sentenced to an imprisonment of ten days, and to pay a fine of five thousand dollars each, have had their fines remitted by the President.

The President has officially proclaimed the ratification of both parts of the treaty, concerning citizenship, with Prussia.

Reception of Carl Schurz in Indiana.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Louisiana Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 31.—Notice was given in the House to-day of a bill to authorize the Legislature to elect Presidential electors.

—Accounts from the interior of Alabama and Mississippi are unfavorable. Heavy rains have fallen, and caterpillars are reported in different sections doing considerable damage. The Warrior river had risen thirty feet and Tuscaloosa twenty feet by the rise in the Tombigbee and Alabama rivers. Fears of an overflow of the lowlands are entertained.

—A monster musical festival by the Northeast Saengerbund takes place next Monday at Jones Wood, New York. Twenty-seven societies will participate.

LETTERS FROM THE SOUTH.

Florida—Its Scenery—Lines of Travel—Tide of Immigration—The Weather—St. Augustine.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TALLAHASSEE, FLA., July 24, 1868.

The Peninsula State from her capital city, in an unofficial way, sendeth greeting to the Old Keystone and to the Iron City. Perhaps you would call your correspondent to account for getting so far off the beaten track of summer travel, and may suspect that in a fit of abstraction he entered the wrong train, and instead of finding himself among the lakes of the frontier or the White Hills of New England, suddenly awoke to consciousness amid the pines, hammocks and savannahs of the Sunny South. Not quite so bad as that, however. I "went to do it," as they say here. The weather was summerry enough on the seaboard when I arrived East. The sun had come North. What was there to do but to try to take him in the rear, and to seek whatever of cooler weather he might have left behind him? So, finding that the steamer "Flag" was going to sail on the anniversary of our National Independence for the port of Fernandina, Florida, at which port I knew I should find sea breezes cool and friends warm, I paid the fare thereof, and was agreeably to contract put ashore on Florida soil on the Thursday following. Fernandina, on Amelia Island, is the Atlantic terminus of the Florida Railroad, the other terminus being at Cedar Keys, on the Gulf. Steamers from these two points make in connection with the railroad, a rapid and economical means of communication between New York and Mobile. Other Gulf ports are soon to be brought into the line.

From Fernandina, the fine steamer Lizzie Baker brought me around to the St. Johns River, up which we steamed our way along the splendid scenery of that noble River to Pilatka, which is as far as Savannah steamers run Southward. Smaller steamers, however, in the hands of enterprssing men are opening up unheard-of lines of communication among the lakes, lagoons and winding watercourses of lower Florida. The country is perfectly alive with new projects of internal improvement, and what is still better, with substantial, steady-going men who have found or are seeking exactly the place for the sphere of their own peculiar genius. Many of the new comers go blunderingly to work. Many of them come here with a larger endowment of wisdom than any seven men that can give a reason, and can argue the old settlers out of countenance in all matters pertaining to Florida agriculture and horticulture, from the cedar to the hyssop. Such generally have their own story to tell, spiced up largely with mosquitoes, bears, alligators and "other insects"—as a south Florida herdsman classified the annoyances his cattle met with—chills, fever, drought, flood, and other enlivening features of a tale of adventures. Others are more reasonable in both their measures and their expectations of what an immigrant's life are to be; they immediately adjust all their arrangements to a Floridian scale, and soon you could not pick them out from a crowd of natives. It is a remarkable fact that when a man once falls in love with Florida, he can resist all the seductions of all climes from the arctic circles to the equator.

But this is not travelling. From Pilatka we go over to St. Augustine. Everybody knows something about this ancient city, but nobody knows exactly how queer it is until he sees it with his eyes, nor how good the good people there really are until he feels it in his own heart. But there is no denying that that particular Friday did happen to be hot. The sea breeze proved false for once and left the faithful old city to pantings, perspiration and blank wonderment at the high-flying ways of the thermometer. Still it is a satisfaction to know that the mercury kept even there within more reasonable bounds than in many of our more northern cities. It seems to have gone considerably "above par" a good many degrees to the north of this latitude. I do sincerely hope that the friendly cloud that overshadows the twin cities, did faithful duty about that time. The fine showers of the rainy season have since revived my recollections of the normal Florida summer.

I wanted to write at some length about Florida resources and attractions, but I must put by my quill and plume my wings for another flight. E. P. C.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

SEYMOUR's physician says he is likely to become crazy within a year. Beware of Blair.

NEW rendering by Grant—"I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all Seymour."

IF the Democrats love the Union and the Constitution so well, how is it that they waged war on both for four years?

THE Democrats are so deficient in arithmetic that in adding up Northern States they don't know how to "carry one."

A WESTERN paper says: Mr. Seymour is said to be strong with the Democratic party; but unluckily the party is not strong with him."

FRANK BLAIR was nominated by the Democrats to draw Republican votes. You might as well use a shadow to draw a blister.

THE Hon. T. W. Green, a prominent Indianapolis Democrat, repudiates Seymour and Blair, and comes out for Grant and Colfax.

THE Ku-Klux go for Seymour and Blair to a man, with as much avidity as they go for a defenceless negro or Union man at midnight.

THE Zanesville Courier offers a reward for a Democrat in Muskingum county, Ohio, who has yet given a hurrah for Tammany Hall ticket.

"GRANT has got to work early if he expects to get a victory," quoth a Democrat. "He 'worked' Early once in the Shenandoah and got one," quoted a Republican.

A FIT NAME for those Pendletonians who sorrowfully support the Democratic nominees—"Seymourners." The entire party will adopt it after the 3d of November.

BRICK POMERRY positively declares that from the 1st to the 5th of July, Belmont & Co. paid out one hundred thousand dollars to buy delegates away from Pendleton.

WHAT is the difference between the Democratic candidates for President and Vice-President? One is a "bloated bond-holder"—the other is a bloated whisky-holder.—Buffalo Express.

AN admirer of Seymour defends his addressing the July rioters of 1863, as "My friends," by saying he "merely wanted to fool the mob into obeying him." He fooled the mob into obeying him again this July.

A SPECIAL telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial, from Louisville, dated July 27th, is as follows: "Five barrels of old Robinson county whisky, consigned to President Johnson, passed through here to-day."

THE Southern Democratic papers hoist the "Stars and Bars" over the Democratic nominations. This is proper. Seymour will see stars before he gets through, and Blair knows already all the bars in the country.

ONE of the chaps that talks big and makes a great fuss about heavy taxation is Dan W. Voorhees. Somebody has been examining Dan's heavy tax burdens, and it was discovered that they aggregate the heavy sum of 87½ cents in five years.

JOHN FORSYTHE, of the Mobile Register, and a delegate to the New York Democratic Convention, says: "Let the incoming Democratic administration only agree to keep its hands off, and we will soon show which and what are the de facto governments in the Southern States."

THERE may be a pungent political lesson for soldiers in the ranks in the following.

Grant's Supporters.	Seymour's Supporters.
SHERMAN,	BEAUREGARD,
SHERIDAN,	FORREST.
THOMAS,	HAMPTON,
MEADE,	SEMMES,
FARRAGUT,	WISE.

IN October, 1861, in a public speech, delivered at Utica, New York, Horatio Seymour, Democratic candidate for President of the United States, said: "If it is true that slavery must be abolished to save the Union, then the people of the South should be allowed to withdraw themselves from the government which cannot give the guarantees in its terms."

IN HIS speech at the Democratic ratification meeting, held on the 18th instant, in Washington, Gen. Thomas Ewing, Jr., speaking of the threatened revolution, used this sentence: "Gen. Blair at the head of the militia will be a match for Gen. Grant at the head of the regular army." In the report of his speech published in the Intelligencer, and revised by him before publication, this sentence does not appear.

HON. GEO. H. PUGH, (Dem.,) of Ohio, said in his speech at the Democratic ratification meeting at Cincinnati, 24th inst. "If any man has come hither to-night expecting to hear me abuse General Grant, I tell him that he is mistaken in the person. I don't abuse him, I shall give him the honor, and great honor it is which he deserves; and if it were a question of giving him honor, the most devoted of his political supporters should not be ahead of me."

THE cooks of the Democratic party ought to be employed in the country tavern where the celebrated colloquy occurred:

Waiter—Tea or coffee, sir?

Guest—If that last you gave me was tea, then give me coffee; but if it was coffee, then give me tea.

If you try the platform you ask for the candidates, and when you get the flavor from them you are driven back on the platform. The best thing is to leave the tavern entirely.

FRANK BLAIR, in a speech in 1860, declared that "the Democratic party was the most miserable and corrupt party in existence." Now, in his letter accepting the rebel-copperhead nomination for Vice President, he declares that the opposition to the Democratic party has always been a "struggle of a few men to absorb the political honors of the nation." In his new-born zeal for the restoration to power of the Southern rebels and the "few men" in the North who aided in the rebellion, Frank ought not to lose sight of his record when he was, or pretended to be, a rampant "black abolitionist."

THE Fort Wayne (Ind.) Gazette publishes the following: "Democracy. Do you regard the National Debt? It should be paid in gold, Horatio. Horatio. By the mass, and 'twill be paid in gold indeed. Dem. In greenbacks, Horatio. Far better in greenbacks. Hor. Quite right, my lord; greenbacks it is. Dem. Or else repudiate. Hor. Just the thing, my lord. [Democracy exit.] Horatio (solus). He who steals my principles steals trash; 'tis something, nothing. 'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands; but he that takes my honor from me, robs me of that which naught enriches him and makes me poor indeed.

CLIPPINGS.

SEVERAL prominent Democrats have conversed with President Johnson about the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue. He is uncertain in his own mind what to do. Eminent lawyers have advised both ways.

"MR. JONES," said Mrs. J., with an air of triumph, "don't you think marriage is a means of grace?" "Well, yes," growled Jones. "I suppose anything is a means of grace that breaks down pride and leads to repentance."

IN Michigan, recently, thirty-five men went into a harvest field to cut grain. About ten A. M. no less than sixteen of them had been sun-stricken, the majority of whom died under the exposure. Such an instance of wholesale casualty has hardly a parallel in the history of this country.

AN eight-hour-in-the-day man, on going home the other evening for his supper, found his wife sitting in her best clothes on the front stoup, reading a volume of travels. "And how is this?" he exclaimed. "Where's my supper?" "I don t know," replied the wife; "I began to get breakfast at six o'clock this morning, and my eight hours ended at 2 P. M."

THE Southern Planters, it is stated, are fast learning how to make as must profit out of the blacks as free laborers as they made out of them when slaves. A letter from Louisiana says the freedmen realize their obligations. They have ceased to hope for the donation of land and mules. They have ceased to apprehend any attempt to reduce them again to bondage. They labor with more regularity, and although the product of their labor is not so great as formerly, it can be relied on as a fixed quantity.

A PROMINENT Radical Senator from the West sent, through a third party, a warning to President Johnson, last night, that if Congress re-assembles in September it will be for the purpose of impeaching him. He added that if Mr. Johnson behaved himself in a manner acceptable to the Republicans of both Houses, there would be no danger of a meeting of either Houses before the next regular session. The President is said to have received the message with an acknowledgement of gratitude to the sender, and a promise to heed it.

A METHOD of refining sugar, without the use of albuminous substances or animal charcoal, has recently been submitted to the French Academy. It consists merely in adding milk of lime to the syrup, mixing intimately with quantities dependent on degree of impurity. The lime is afterwards separated by a current of carbonic acid (passed as long as the liquid is alkaline,) followed by boiling for a short time to decompose the resulting bicarbonate. The filtered and decanted liquid yields pure white sugar. The quantity of lime varies from 4 per cent. upwards.

SUN-STROKE, according to Gen. Napier, must be a rather pleasant way out of the world. The General tried it in Scinde once, and wrote of it to his daughter as follows: "The sun-stroke was a staggerer; yet my hope is to die by one, for never can death come in an easier shape. I was just deadly sleepy; it was deadly had I been left alone; but the only feeling of the transition would have been a tiredness like that experienced at being suddenly waked up before time. This was to a degree almost to be called painful; then came a pleasant drowsiness, with anger that the doctors would not let me sleep. Were it not for others, would that my horn had sounded; so easy, so delightful, I may say, was the approach of death."

COMPRESSED LEATHER.—A substance under this name is now manufactured in considerable quantity in England, and is prepared by first cleaning shoemaker's waste and cuttings from dust and foreign matters, and reducing to fine filaments. The cutting of ox or other hides are also reduced to a fibrous mass. These combined together, in certain proportions, are mixed with water to which has been added one per cent. of sulphuric acid, until the whole becomes a plastic mass, which is then pressed into moulds of the desired shape and size. After drying by steam, they are passed through rollers glazed on one side and roughened on the other, to produce the grain and flesh sides of the leather. About one pound of glycerine to the hundred weight is added to render the leather more flexible. For many purposes, as for soles and heels of shoes, etc., it is equal to natural leather, and can be sold at one-half the cost.

THE Pine Bluff, (Ark.,) Vindicator, a staunch supporter of Seymour and Blair, says:

"We are now in the building from which fluttered the first Confederate flag in Arkansas. The glory of that day has departed outwardly. Changes have been wrought, but the memory of that morning on which we unfurled the Stars and Bars, in honor of Arkansas defending her honor by seceding, will never die. Not even the ravages made by the despoiler's hand can eradicate one glorious remembrance of the past. We live as of yore, and though chained and down-trodden by fanatics, we know the time is fast approaching when right and justice will sing a requiem over the grave of Radical wrong. On the apex of our office still stands the shattered, storm-beaten shaft that buoyed up the flag of liberty, and although that emblem ceases to be kissed by the sun of freedom, the staff remains to remind us of what we were, and we hope when it falls it will rest on the grave wherein lies every Radical in the country."

THIS is the way a leading Democratic member of the Georgia Legislature recently freed his mind:

"He said there might once have been a necessity for the rebels of Georgia to submit to the military authorities, but there is none now. 'The Democratic chivalry of the North are marching to our rescue. Gen. Lee used sometimes to issue orders to us to hold our position a little longer, and reinforcements should be sent to our rescue, and that would inspire us to fight until we wrested victory often from the very jaws of defeat. We are fighting now another battle. The enemy presses us hard. But let us hold our position a little longer, and the Democracy of the North will be here to our assistance, and make victory perch upon our banners.'"

THE Copperhead papers are boasting loudly of the late accession of Hon. F. T. Backus, of Cleveland, Ohio, to their ranks. Mr. Backus left the Republican party more than four years ago, and at the last Presidential election was an ardent supporter of the Democratic nominees.

GRANT GOES AT THE HEAD.

Now, boys, mark time!
From old Atlantic's rocky shore,
To soft Pacific's coast,
Come up the chorus o'er and o'er
From Grant's unconquered host,
Beneath the flag that waved so long
In victory, where he led,
Again goes forth the gallant throng
While Grant goes at the head.

Firm! firm! steady! where our chieftain towers:
Let Seymour bear the "Stars and Bars,"
The "Stars and Stripes" are ours.

The same old fight we fought of yore,
When Grant our victories won:
We fight at North and South once more,
Till freedom's work is done.
For Seymour's "friends," whom once he taught
In eighteen sixty-three,
Once more unto the ballot brought,
To break down liberty.
Firm! firm! steady, &c.

While Grant and Colfax lead our line,
Let Blair and Seymour shout,
Though Rebels North and South combine,
Their forces we will rout.
"I cannot be your candidate,"
Said Seymour—what he meant
Was—what he did not state:
I cannot be President!
Firm! firm! steady, &c.

DR. TODD AND THE WOMAN QUESTION.

BY GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

It seems to be conceded. slowly, perhaps, but surely, that a man is not of necessity an idiot, nor a woman a sour old maid, who supposes that, as much remains yet to be accomplished in the development of men, so all is not yet finally settled for women. That the dogmas of conceited and prejudiced men are not unquestionably the divine intentions in human society, is a speculation which may now be indulged without the suspicion of foolishness or fanaticism. That, in a word, the Reverend Doctor Todd is not the only wise man, and that possibly others have been admitted to the celestial councils almost as familiarly as he, is a faith which, beyond Berkshire at least, has an astonishing number of adherents.

There is nothing more delightfully comical, in the idea of a conclave of friars and monks, such as may be seen by the thousand in lovely Italy, sitting in judgment upon the conclusions of Darwin or of Tyndall, and gravely excommunicating them for infidelity, than in that of the young gentlemen who give all their minds to their scarf-knots, pleasantly laughing at the suggestions of any "wrong" in the condition of women, or in their relation to human society. It is not these young gentlemen alone who take this view—nor is it only the Reverend Doctor Todd; there are thoughtful and generous and chivalric men who smile at the fancy of any "sphere" for women except that to which they traditionally consign her, and who suspect in every woman whose imagination strays beyond the nursery, and the dining-room, and the ragged school, and the ball-room, something a little "unfeminine," as in Hawthorne's "Donatello;" it is impossible not to feel that he is just less than human, and that if the wind would only raise the hair, we should see the ears of the faun.

As for the women, what shall an ancient Easy Chair say? In the softer circles of society, how many fair dames are not a little angry at the suggestion of an enlarged sphere of interest and activity, as if it were an insinuation of something brazen in their tastes and characters? Even those who are most sensible, and who gravely entertain the suggestion, or indeed sympathize with it, show a tranquil approval rather than an active desire or resolution. The more clever women neatly expose the exquisite follies of the solemn and sentimental objectors, and sweep their exterminating fingers through the light web of sophistry which some men with edifying gravity call instinct. But even these women "smiling, put the question by," even although they gave it its natural and reasonable answer. There are others who ask why they should wish to have more bother than they have already? And still others who are of the "nestling" and "tendril" school, and wish to be only what the lord of their hearts desires. Does it occur to such tender creaturrs that love and matrimony are relations of reciprocal duties? and that if Jane is to think only what John wishes her to think, and do only what John wishes her to do, John is bound by the same rule? The philosophy of Mrs. Grundy's drawing-room in New York is practiced very perfectly in Siam, and in the household of the Grand Turk. Indeed, the laureate of the Sultan—of the same sex with his majesty, and one of the most sparkling of singers—wrote, two centuries ago, upon the introduction of the loveliest of Circassians into the happy family of the august Commander of the Faithful, the following limpid quatrain:

"All honor to woman, the sweet-heart, the wife,
The delight of the fireside by night and by day,
Who never does anything wrong in her life
Except when permitted to have her own way."

Or was it not the Sultan's laureate two hundred years ago, and does Mr. Sparrowgrass quote this as the latest epigram of Mr. Halleck? Dear old Mrs. Barbauld also wrote some verses upon the same subject, which were worthy to be printed in gold letters over the portals of Miss Pinkerton's Academy for young ladies. The worthy old gentlewoman is rhyming of the flowers upon her table, and she improves the text for the benefit of young ladies:

"An or blush, my fair, to own you copy these;
Your best, your sweetest empire is to please."

Oh, honey and butter! Butter and honey, oh!

It certainly is not surprising that there are women who are a little tired of the kind of diet provided by Mrs. Barbauld and the court governesses, Mr. Halleck and the court poets, and the Rev. Dr. Todd and the court chaplains, who are indeed willing to incur the bright banter of brothers with the scarf-knot and even of the fastidious and chivalric elders, and try to ascertain why they do not understand themselves as well as men understand them, and to prove whether their sphere is not, like that of men, to be determined by experiment, not by theory; and who ask that question which no Sultan upon record has ever been known to answer, and which confounds forever even the great Haroun al Raschid, how can you determine any proper sphere without perfect freedom of choice and action?—Harper's Magazine for July.

THE formation of mineral veins is the subject of investigation in a paper published recently in the proceedings of the British Royal Society. The essay was written by Mr. J. A. Phillips, in reference to the gold fields of California, and the author describes the growth of mineral veins situated seven miles from the Comstock vein in Nevada, where boiling springs are active. Mr. Phillips arrives at the conclusion that quartz veins have generally been produced by slow depositions from aqueous solutions of silica. That gold may be deposited from the same solutions, appears from the presence of that metal in pyrites inclosed in silicious incrustations, as well as from the fact that large quantities of gold have been found in the interior of the stems of trees which, in deep diggings, are often converted into iron pyrites.

A LADY who had been reading law is in doubt regarding the validity of her marital condition. She says: "Lotteries are illegal, and marriage is the greatest lottery of life."

Female Beauty.

The ladies of Arabia stain their fingers and toes red, their eyebrows black, and their lips blue. In Persia they paint a black streak around their eyes, and ornament their faces with various figures. The Japanese women gild their teeth, and those of the Indians paint them red. The pearl of the teeth must be dyed black to be beautiful in Guzerat. The Hottentot women paint the entire body in compartments of red and black. In Greenland, the women color their faces with blue and yellow, and they frequently tattoo their bodies by saturating thread in soot, inserting them beneath the skin, and then drawing them through. Hindoo families, when they wish to appear particularly lovely, smear themselves with a mixture of saffron, turmeric and grease. In nearly all the islands of the Pacific and Indian oceans, the women, as well as the men, tattoo a great variety of figures on the face, the lips, tongue and the whole body. In New Holland, they cut themselves with shells, and keeping the wounds open a long time, form deep scars in the flesh, which they deem highly ornamental. And another singular mutilation is made among them by taking off, in infancy, the little finger of the left hand at the second joint. In ancient Persia, an aquiline nose was often thought worthy of the crown; but the Sumatran mother carefully flattens the nose of her daughter. Among some of the savage tribes in Oregon, and also in Sumatra and Africa, continual pressure is applied to the skull in order to flatten it, and thus give it a new beauty. The modern Parisians have a strong aversion to red hair; the Turks, on the contrary, are warm admirers of it. In China round small eyes are liked, and the girls are continually plucking their eyebrows, that they may be thin and long. But the great beauty of a Chinese lady is in her feet, which in childhood are so compressed by bandages, as effectually to prevent any further increase in size. The four smallest toes are bent under the foot, at the sole of which they firmly adhere; and the poor girl not only endures much pain, but becomes a cripple for life. Another mark of beauty consists in finger nails, so long that casings of bamboo are necessary to preserve them from injury. An African beauty must have small eyes, thick lips, a large flat nose, and a skin beautifully black. On the northwest coast of America an incision, more than two inches in length, is made in the lower lip, and then filled with a wooden plug. In Guinea the lips are pierced with thorns, the heads being inside the mouth, and the points resting on the chin.

A Singular Wedding.

An amusing thing happened the other day in the commune of H——, on the frontier of the provinces of Liege and Luxembourg. A certain well-to-do Monsieur D—— fell so violently in love with his maid of all work that he determined to make her his wife. The parish priest was therefore called upon to publish the bans, and after the legal delays, D. and his maid servant were married, both according to the civil and religious rites and ceremonies. Eight days elapsed, the happy pair were enjoying all the delights of the honeymoon when late in the evening the priest rushed in, declared he had just discovered they were blood relations, and that their marriage was consequently null for want of a dispensation. The couple burst out laughing, protesting that what was done could not be undone. His reverence was inexorable; ordered them to separate, and, in fact, divorced them until the dispensation could be procured, meanwhile the shepherd kept a strict watch over his erring sheep, and they were compelled to be content with the sighs and caresses of a mere courtship. When the dispensation arrived, D. and his dulcinea chanced to be at a neighboring cabaret, drinking to their coming second wedding. The priest rushed triumphantly in; without losing a moment, a neighboring abbe was summoned; a few prayers were murmured, the wedding benediction given, and this time the pair were wedded strictly according to the rules of the church, in a cabaret, standing over a stove with a couple of glasses of cognac in their hands. After the ceremony, the cure of course took his petit verre, and equally, of course, claimed five francs as the fee for the dispensation.

A New Optical Toy.

A new optical toy called the kinerscope is on sale in Paris. It is a microscopic reproduction of the zoetrope, so well known with us. Its most remarkable feature is that the objects in motion appear solid. This is obtained, according to the Scientific Review, by making use of the microscopic photographs encased in a little apparatus something like a Stanhope lens, and destined to be worn attached to the watch chain, as an ornament. The effect of motion is produced by the rapid change of position of two images only. The little instrument, or ornament, forms an eliptical medallion, and the two photo-microscopic cylinders occupy the centre, being perpendicular to the thickness of the medallion. They represent the same object in two positions. The effect is produced by a very simple mechanism. The two photo-microscopic cylinders are encased in a guide surrounded by a caoutchouc membrane, on which is placed a vertical rod terminating in a button, which is outside the medallion. On looking through the central aperture of the medallion one of the images only is seen, but on pressing the button with the finger, which pressure is communicated to the caoutchouc membrane, the relative positions of the two cylinders is changed, and the second image succeeds the first before the latter has ceased to affect the retina.

THE ENGLISH IRON-CLADS do not meet the approbation of Captain Sherrard Osborne, who has had great experience on this subject, having built a number of armored vessels and taken them out to the China Seas. Captain Osborne criticises very sharply the conduct of those who have prevented the full and free discussion of the question in Parliament. He declares that the Shoeburyness experiments have effectually demonstrated the uselessness of the armor plated broadside. "The iron ship will," he says, "for warlike purposes, supercede all wooden structures; its uninflammability, superior strength and comparative cheapness, place the question beyond all doubt. The big gun of to-day of twenty tons, and the still larger one of to-morrow, probably fifty tons, render it a certainty that the turn table, with more or less turret for a shield, will be the naval armament, whatever the structure may be upon which they are to be mounted. The attempt to fight 12-ton guns on the broadside has nearly had its day. The next, and the last great revolution to be achieved in our men-of-war, is the low freeboard and very heavy armor on vessels intended to fight on line of battle, or to operate against fortifications." This latter principle has been, in the opinion of the writer, shamefully neglected. From the above remarks, it will be perceived that Captain Osborne advocates the Monitor principle of arming vessels of war.

A TUNNEL to unite Scotland and Ireland, has recently been suggested by an English engineer. This under-sea passage would run from the coast of Antrim, Ireland, to Leak's Point, in the Mull of Cantyre, a length of fourteen and a half miles. It is estimated that it would cost $15,750,000.

THE ANTI-TORNADO RAILROAD BRIDGE

Is eminently adapted for our large western rivers, with spans of 550 feet, 80 feet above low water. It will resist the strongest winds, hurricanes, and the heaviest loaded trains will not affect it. I made the discovery on the 25th of June last. A model 6 feet long I exhibit, and give specification on its principles to all parties who take an interest in bridges, and charge 25 cents.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to swell slowly, under the inflence of the recent heavy showers, and last evening, the metal mark indicated about twenty-three inches. The weather continues cloudy and unsettled, with frequent showers of rain.

There is nothing new to note at the levee. Some few of the boats are being repainted and repaired, and fitted up for the fall campaign.

The Monongahela river packs are making regular trips, and as a general thing, are doing a fair business.

—Capt. Richard Calhoun of the Delaware is in Cincinnati.

—The following list of steamers will ply in the Memphis and New Orleans trade this season: The low-pressure steamer Richmond, Belle Lee, Magenta, Mississippi, and probably the Frank Pargoud and Governor Allen.

—The St. Louis Democrat of Wednesday says: The Silver Lake is coming down from the mountains on a fast trip. We think she will arrive at this port to-night, having been among the most successful mountain boats of the season.

—The Mohawk arrived at New Orleans on the 24th, with two barges containing 3,770 barrels flour, 2,792 sacks corn, 2,495 sacks oats, 1,901 sacks bran, 1,123 bales hay, 240 bales straw, 200 barrels pork, 100 sacks meal, and other freight—in all 13,184 packages

—The little steamer Dexter, which careened and sunk during a heavy storm on Sunday last, near Twelveville, is lying in six feet water. She will be pumped out. A man named Wm. Kessler, a passenger, fell or jumped overboard from the boat while sinking, and was drowned. The river was being dragged for his body when the Annie Laurie passed down Tuesday.

—Louisville paper, of Wednesday, says: Capt. L. B. Dunham returned from Cincinnati yesterday. He failed to purchase the P. W. Strader, as the parties who own her raised the price to $35,000, after agreeing to take $30,000 for her. Capt. D. will build a new boat at once.

—By dispatches from Louisville we are informed that Judge Ballard, of the United States Court, has decided the case of Rev. Father Brockman vs. the owners of the steamer Gen. Lytle, of the United States Mail Line, for injuries received by the explosion of that boat. Judge Ballard has decided that the owners of the boat were at fault, and liable for damages. The amount claimed by Father Brockman is $20,000. A jury will be impanneled to assess the damages.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Thursday: The R. C. Gray left for St. Louis last evening, drawing 3½ feet, and having a barge in tow, containing 140 tuns railroad iron for Henderson. Only about one-fourth of her freight was for St. Louis—the remainder, with the exception of 75 tuns for New Orleans, being for points on the Ohio river. Pilots, R. G. Shinkle and Elbert H. Williamson. The America, Capt. Adam Poe, arrived from St. Louis yesterday, and reshipped her flour by rail. She has her sign out for New Orleans. The J. N. McCullough left for Louisville last evening, in place of the Gen. Lytle.

WE commence to-day a series of letters from Florida, written by a distinguished literary gentleman of this city.

THE speech of Hon. J. A. BINGHAM was phonetically reported for yesterday's GAZETTE by Messrs. GEO. DITHRIDGE and S. S. GILSON.

THE Democrats of the Twenty-fourth Congressional District of Pennsylvania have nominated DAVID CRAWFORD, Esq., of Green county as their candidate for Congress.

ONE of the new Georgia Senators, Mr. HILL was a thorough Unionist and is regarded as a Conservative Republican, while the other, MILLER, is a Democrat. Their election is due to the reluctance of the Radicals to support their competition.

THE New York Times states that in that city, "among the business classes thousands who do not ordinarily vote the Republican ticket, are now sustaining Gen. GRANT." It adds, in view of all the facts before it, that "the Republican majority in the State ought to be at least fifty thousand."

SOUTHERN REBELS are not satisfied with the way the MCARDLE case went off last winter, giving the Reconstruction question a judicial go-by. The irrepressible JENKINS, of Georgia, is therefore making another case, which, they hope, will lead to the full gratification of their hatred against a loyal Union.

SECRETARY SEWARD'S satisfactory transition, from the cautious phraseology of his first proclamation concerning the XIVth Amendment, to the clear and decisive second announcement of its absolute ratification, is said to be attributable to the wholesome influence exercised in the right quarter by the new Attorney General.

AT THE New England Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, held at Newport, Rhode Island, action was taken in regard to the Presidential election, in which it was set forth that they would not vote for the nominees of the Democratic party, but use all honorable means to secure the election of the nominees of the Republican party.

EACH allusion, in Mr. BINGHAM'S speech on Thursday evening, to the grand principles of Liberty and Equality for all mankind, was promptly greeted by his audience with the clearest evidences of satisfaction. Liberty, Equality and Justice go hand-in-hand with Intelligence and Patriotism among this people. There is hope for a country which finds in these principles and virtues the palladium of its liberties.

THE QUESTION OF PEACE OR WAR.

The triumph of the party headed by SEYMOUR and BLAIR, and directed by the men who inaugurated the rebellion and the war in 1860 and '61, would be a calamity as great as would have been the success of the rebellion. The letters of FRANCIS P. BLAIR, written both before and after the New York Convention which put him in nomination, are received at the South, (where the potential portion of the party are still found,) as that party's real declaration of principles, and these breathe nothing but rebellion, violent revolution and war. Treason, crushed to earth under the iron heels of the great army of the Union, now, for the first time, shows signs of returning vitality; and shouts as audacious, malignant and defiant as ever rung out from the councils or camps of the Confederacy are the echoes of the doings of the disloyal gathering which put SEYMOUR and BLAIR in nomination.

One candidate on that ticket stands as the fit representative of the Copperhead wing of the party—a man who sympathised with the rebels and did as much as he dared to do to weaken the hands of the Government in that awful struggle—a man who encouraged the mob of New York to enter upon their three days reign of terror, and addressed them as his "friends," while the smoke of orphan asylums and the shrieks of murdered children were ascending to heaven. Those wretches were then and are yet his "friends," birds of a feather, and those crowded dens of infamy in that metropolis, whence issued that hideous mob, will roll him up his largest majorities. GRANT will find no friends in that crowd, among those genuine sons and "friends" of Belial.

The other, like MOLOCH, comes up with a shout of war. In the infernal conference, described by MILTON, held soon after the first Great Rebellion, that leading devil made a speech very much like BLAIR'S letters. We quote a passage:

"My sent needs for open war; of wiles,
More unexpert, I boast not; them let those
Contrive who need, or when they need; not now:
For while they sit contriving, shall the rest,
Millions that stand in arms and longing wait
The signal to ascend, sit lingering here,
Heaven's fugitives, and for their dwelling place
Accept this dark opprobious den of shame,
The prison of his tyranny who reigns
By our delay? No! let us rather choose,
Armed with heli-flames and fury, all at once
O'er heaven's high towers to force resistless way."

BELIAL was a cowardly devil in that convention, and counseled a treacherous show of submission. He wanted to wait to see what would turn up—a good deal like SEYMOUR; but MOLOCH, as the quotation shows, was a real FRANK BLAIR, and was for pitching in at once.

In 1856 the Democracy got up a ticket very much like this—BUCHANAN and BRECKENRIDGE—and elected it, and long will the country rue in its finances and at its desolated firesides that unhappy election. It were now unkind, perhaps, to compare Mr. BUCHANAN with BELIAL; but all must admit that in one thing he resembled him—he was a great coward. His mate on the ticket, however, was a genuine MOLOCH, whose voice was for open war. They tried to poison BUCHANAN at the National Hotel, and although his animal life was too tough for the drug, his courage and manhood, if he ever had any, were destroyed. Thenceforward MOLOCH and his party had it all their own way, and that facile administration was used by them from first to last to prepare for "open war."

This ticket is worse than that one, and the cries which are uttered as it is thrown before the country are more flagitious, more atrociously wicked, than any heard eight years ago. They ring through the country more like the shouts of armed rebels than the utterances of a political party, and as such let us meet them. The issue is Peace or War—an issue far more solemn and momentous than any we were ever before called to meet at the ballot box. Then let the cry again resound throughout all the land—as ten thousand times it rose in sublime melody in the camps and on the marches of our armies—

"Rally round the flag boys, Rally once again!"

so that not a man will be missing on the great day of decision.

Thorough organization is what is needed. Let the voters everywhere, in town and country, form close, active, working bands, and let the living voices of gifted men, able to discuss the great issue, be heard in every place where an audience can be gathered. Huge conventions waste more energy and means than they are worth; therefore let us expend our energies all over the field more than we have hitherto done. Moreover, let the press be made to do all that it can do, and let no man who, through proverty or indifference, is not supplied with papers and documents, lack the means of knowing all the truth in reference to the great question before the country.

All this ought to be done prior to the October election. It is on that day we shall be called upon to show to ourselves and to all the other States what we can do. Remember that last October the election went against us in this State—partly through fraud and partly through our own supineness—but still it was declared to be against us; and we need not blame the people of other States if they fear a similar result this year, until, by a glorious victory in October, we assure them that Pennsylvania will do her part in November. Bear in mind, therefore, that the second Tuesday of October is our real day of battle.

THE Republicans of Bedford opened the campaign a few nights ago by a grand mass meeting, The speakers were Hon. THOMAS MARSHALL and Hon. A. K. MCCLURE. Of the former, the Inquirer says:

"Hon Thomas M. Marshall, of Allegheny county, was introduced amid great applause. The speaker was in his happiest mood. His terrible excoriations of the Copperhead Democracy, his scathing, blistering denunciations of treason, his trenchant, withering sarcasm, his brilliant sallies of wit directed against poor Chase and the modern prodigal sons gory with the blood of Union soldiers, whom the Blairs would, with open arms, embrace, and his lofty flights of native eloquence, were received with wild enthusiasm. Never has it been our pleasure to listen to such resistless wit. Beneath his steady, ponderous blows, the miserable fabric of treason tottered and fell. He will speak again for the Republicans before leaving the Springs."

THE POPULAR RALLY ABOUT THE FLAG.

We hear daily of the most encouraging evidences that the patriotism and intelligence of a large number of citizens, who have heretofore voted with the Democratic party, are alarmed by the complete surrender of their leaders to the infernal spirit of rebellion or secession which is now rampant at the South, and that they are recognizing the imperative duty of all good men to unite in the support of that policy of Peace and Equal Justice to all, which rests its hopes in the election of GRANT. Each day we hear of new names, of those honest, union-loving citizens of Allegheny county who prefer country to party and Peace rather than another Civil War. We were reliably informed yesterday, for example, of five Democrats, each one of whom had served to uphold the old flag, and each one of whom had voted for SHARSWOOD last fall, who told our friend yesterday morning that they had no use for BLAIR and another rebellion, and should fight it out for GRANT and Peace, if it took until November.

We have also the name of another citizen, whose abilities and influence have been a tower of strength to the Democracy, repeatedly receiving their fullest confidence, and on more than one occasion—the last being also very recent—their suffrages, who served conspicuously and most honorably in the last war for the Unity of the Republic, and who, leading then the boys in blue, under the stars and stripes, accepts now all the responsibilities of a thoughtful and all-controlling patriotism, and will lead another column of independent Democratic voters against the same old enemy in its new disguise. He fought WADE HAMPTON once, and is about to do it again. He accepts no platform of political principles from that boastful rebel, preferring his old leader, the Victor of Appomattox. When a fitting time appears for discussing this matter with his fellow-citizens, he proposes to show to them, and to thousands of his Democratic friends in Western Pennsylvania, the dangers and the duties of the crisis.

How gratifying it is to feel that there exist these multiplying proofs, showing the popular heart to be still sound and loyal to the imperilled Republic. Its awakened intelligence still guards, faithfully as ever, the citadel of the Union!

A SERIOUS MATTER.

A very contagious and fatal disease among cattle, first appearing last year in the extreme Southwestern States, has been observed to be extending its ravages Northward and Eastward, until we now learn of its widely-spread existence in portions of Illinois and Indiana. The distemper is popularly supposed to have originated in Mexico or Texas, and to have been spread by the importation of large herds of cattle from that section to the markets of the West and Northwest. Its contagious type is clearly established, while its fatality is evidenced by the most extensive destruction. Notwithstanding a statute of Illinois prohibits the transportation of that class of stock over the railways of that State, we observe that the Chicago press have sounded a vigorous note of alarm, having good reason to believe that these cattle have already been dealt in in the extensive yards of that city. This matter directly concerns the people of Ohio and Pennsylvania, which States are traversed by railway lines communicating with Chicago, and constantly bearing crowded cattle trains. Without timely and effective precautions, an epidemic at Chicago, or in any portion of Illinois may, and probably will, be transferred to the yards near this city. What these precautions should be, we are not prepared to suggest, but it is our duty to state what we have of the character and extent of an imminent danger. We have, in brief, no desire to see a fatal pestilence sweeping among the cattle of Pennsylvania, if it be capable of seasonable prevention.

THE WADE HAMPTON AND BLAIR POLICY is already fruiting in Tennessee. The situation of affairs in that State becomes seriously alarming. Long since, under the first lead of ANDREW JOHNSON, then their Military Governor, the loyal men of Tennessee, reconstructing their government, declared that it should be controlled by loyalty only. With that end in view they found it needful to disfranchise a large number of rebels. For a while, this exclusion has been submitted to by those who felt that they were properly paying a penalty for unsuccessful treason. But the new Democratic platform of revolutionary resistance in arms against the law encourages them to demand the removal of this exclusion, and that every red-handed follower of FORREST in his butcheries shall be restored to an equality of rights with those citizens who loyally upheld the Union flag. The rebels have organized and armed themselves, throughout the State, in the K. K. K. secresy at first, but of late openly and defiantly, sheltering themselves under the fostering wing of Northern Copperhead sympathy. The Union party firmly resists the rebel demand, and the Legislature has therefore been convened to consider the excited and seriously alarming condition of public feeling in the State. The rebels, disregarding the new Democratic theory that the suffrage is properly to be regulated by each State for itself, denounce the action of their own State authorities, and threaten open war unless the obnoxious exclusion is removed. It remains to be seen whether the Legislature will yield to these violent demands, or will prepare itself for the armed outbreak which is imminent.

THE Union journals of the South are filled with narratives of the outrages committed by the K. K. K. Democracy. The New Orleans Republican says:

"Every mail and every traveler from Northern Louisiana brings a fresh tale of horror. The cheerful doctrines of Mr. Frank Blair's letter are bearing their legitimate fruit. The rich region above Red river, and the portion of Mississippi which lies opposite, are being 'delivered from the domination of a barbarous people' with a vengeance."

IN October, 1862, that sterling War Democrat, DANIEL S. DICKINSON, delivered a speech at the Cooper Institute, New York, in which he quoted, with scathing comments, the following sentence from a speech of HORATIO SEYMOUR, made a few days before:

"If it is true that slavery must be abolished to save this Union, then the people of the South should be allowed to withdraw themselves from that Government which cannot give them the protection guaranteed by its terms."

In SEYMOUR'S opinion slavery was more sacred and more valuable than the Union. That was what was called Democracy then, and it is so yet. Slavery had not been abolished at the time these words were spoken, but Mr. LINCOLN had just issued his preliminary proclamation. Perhaps, should he be elected, the rebel States will yet "be allowed to withdraw," so that they may reconstruct their sacred institution. The old slaveholders and rebels may reasonably hope that they will be allowed this privilege; and that they do entertain that hope is clearly inferrable from the declaration of one of their leading orators, that the success of the Democratic ticket would give to the South all it contended for in the war.

THE Hoosier Democracy declare that BLAIR is a "bad egg." They are all goose flesh, when they remember his venomous denunciations of their party, three years since, from a score of Indiana stumps, and they let him alone now, as much as possible. They have declined his offer to make Democratic harangues, putting him off to some more convenient season. He has twice traversed the State since his nomination but has never been entreated to open his mouth. This is not the way the Hoosiers treat their favorites.

THE Copperheads are preparing the way for BLAIR, SEYMOUR and HAMPTON'S next rebellion, by their efforts to shake the popular confidence in the National credit. They would persuade the people to repudiate their obligations, for the money which helped us through one war, hoping thereby to find the nation unable to command the needful means in the next one. That is the real aim of the greenback redemption dodge!

AT Appomatox General GRANT dictated terms of surrender to the rebels; among others, that they were "not to be disturbed by United States authority so long as they observe their parole, and the laws in force where they may reside." These terms were distinctly accepted by Gen. LEE. HAMPTON and his associates, who are endeavoring to stir up another rebellion, are clearly acting in violation of their parole.

Another Independent Democratic Journal.

The Huntingdon Globe, in this State, is a well-edited and independent Democratic paper, which took issue with some of the measures of the Radicals, after having earnestly supported Lincoln and Curtin. But the New York conclave was too much for it, and now our contemporary proclaims his purpose to act with the Republicans in the following frank and manly terms. We copy:

The "old secession element" has control of the organization, and it expects by the election of Seymour and Blair—both of whom were nominated for their positions by men of known secession proclivities—to secure "all" that the Confederacy fought for. We saw this in the beginning of the year, and we "somersaulted," and just so long as we see that the Democratic party will take to its bosom such vipers as Vallandigham and Voorhees, or give its ears to such insidious tricksters as the rebel generals Forrest, Hampton & Co., just so long will we oppose that party. The Democratic party might have worked a reform, as everybody admits, but now they have let that opportunity slip by heeding the insinuations of the rebel leaders and Northern rebel sympathizers (for such we must call Vallandigham and his admirers), and the consequences of a sore defeat rest upon them. The "Democracy" have permitted the favorable opportunity to do their country a good service to pass, and if they remain out of power for the next twenty years it will be nothing more than they deserve. We can never help to raise to power leading rebels and their sympathizers.

The West Virginia Rebel Democracy.

The history of the Grafton Convention, like many other histories, cannot be fully written till some time after the event. If the personal experiences of those in attendance could be collected and presented in a body, it would be seen that such a collection of ruffianism and rascality has never before congregated in this State. We occasionally come across a person who was there and adds a leaf to what is already known. The amount of drunkenness was fearful, and the number of the knocked down and robbed will probably never be fully ascertained. A citizen of Wheeling who was there, declares he never saw as much drunkenness at any place in his life. He was in the Convention and heard the crowd, when Thurman asked what they would do with the Union soldiers, cry out "Hang 'em! Hang 'em!" He also heard the yells for Jeff. Davis.

All accounts concur in showing that the rebelism and ruffianism congregated at Grafton were without parallel in this quarter of the State. The lawless elements from the rebel counties overran everything and permeated and gave tone to the entire Convention. A Pittsburgh gentleman who was in the Convention, speaking of it in this city yesterday, says he never saw anything like it. As showing the utter abandon in which every one took part in the proceedings who wanted to, he says he himself made several motions, and among others, made the motion by which the nomination of Willey for Attorney General was made unanimous.

GEN. SHERIDAN within a year wrote to a friend as follows: "It is perhaps, needless for me to tell you how light my heart is on account of the glorious record in front of which General Grant now stands before the country. The country now begins to appreciate that, his was the only hand which patted me on the shoulder and gave me encouragement, when I, almost alone, stuck up my little battle-flag at New Orleans to assist a second time in saving the country and preserving the record of our soldiers. Had Grant, Sherman and myself, and others, gone over to the enemy, much darkness would have come upon the land. Two solutions were necessary for the settlement of the rebellion. The first was to take away from it its military strength. That was done at Appamattox. The second, to take away its political strength. That will be done next November. It will be a short campaign, but as decisive as Appomattox."

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The plan brought forward, at the last Episcopal Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, to divide again, which left fourteen counties in the old diocese, and the remaining thirty counties in the new diocese, was to take effect when two thirds of the clergymen and churches consent, and some two thousand five hundred a year for five years, to support the new bishop. The question was thus referred to the people and the result is as follows: Of fifty-seven parishes, representing twenty-eight hundred and forty-two communicants, twenty-five parishes representing seventeen hundred and forty-one communicants, have replied. Of those six parishes, representing two hundred and thirty-five, approve, and eighteen parishes, representing sixteen hundred and sixteen communicants, disapprove of the division. Towards the bishop's salary the sum of two hundred dollars have been pledged by four parishes. From these facts, it is not likely that dioceses will be multiplied in our State at present.

During the sittings of the Hebrew B'nai B'rith, at New York, an association of the liberal minded class of Israelites, the question of limiting the membership to Jews called forth a sharp debate. It was contended that all creeds should be admitted to the society, if they come forward—Christians, Mohammedans, and even Pagans. The amendment, to limit the membership to Jews, was finally withdrawn, the sentiment prevailing that it was not proper to form themselves into a secret society, and exclude from among them those of other creeds.

Notwithstanding the American Board is much in need of funds, to carry on its operations, the managers are sending out laborers. Several missionaries sailed this month to China and Turkey. Rev. M. P. Parmelee and family, Revs. J. E. Pierce and R. M. Cole, with their wives, and Miss Van Duzee, will sail on the 8th of August, and Rev. C. H. Wheeler and family, with Misses Parmelee and Baker, on the 15th.

The statistics of the Old School Presbyterian Church, during the year ending May, 1868, are just published, from which we learn the number of members added on examination is 18,486, and by certificate 12,227. The number of ministers received from other denominations is forty-three, and dismissed forty-six. Eleven churches received from other denominations and four dismissed. The total number of communicants reported is 252,555, and of persons in Sabbath Schools nearly the same number, namely, 221,340. The whole sum contributed for congregational, benevolent and miscellaneous purposes amounts to $4,289,595.

Under the nurture of Dr. Arm's Church, Congregational, at Norwich, Connecticut, there have been raised up forty ministers of the gospel. This important work is frequently overlooked by churches, and no better evidence of the spiritual prosperity of a congregation could be given than in being the agency of sending out laborers into the vineyard of the Lord.

The Western Christian Advocate, an influential religious weekly in the West, contains a caustic editorial on "Grain-Gambling," based upon the great losses by grain speculators in June last. Many persons, besides those immediately in the trade, were induced under the belief that the coming crop was so promising that they agreed at a certain date to furnish the number of bushels contracted for, but when the time expired, they were compelled to pay an advance upon the price of sale to meet their engagements, and multitudes instead of making, lost heavily, in some instances all their savings for years. It is argued that two-thirds of the business failures in the towns, large and small, throughout the country, are caused by the vice—nay, the sin, the crime—of making money on speculative chances outside of men's legitimate business and foreign to all their usual sympathies, training and habits. It regards such desires for making money for personal or other ends the same as "throws," and "grab games," and "chances in lotteries." They are all hideous and fatal experiments of raising money. Why walk so close to the edge of the precipice that one little misstep will send us reeling and plunging to a bottomless abyss, where the way for our safe walking is so plainly marked?

The first Methodist Episcopal Church organized in New York city a century ago, known as the Old John Street, had as one of its original members, a colored man, and the society, from that day to the present, has not been without its colored members.

The venerable Senior Bishop Morris, of the M. E. Church, was present at the Erie Conference, lately held at Warren Ohio. In the course of a brief address, he stated he was licensed to preach in 1814, and had his day of toil. He said he felt like an old hulk laid on the dry dock. Yet he was happy, and did not propose to cross the "river" till he came to it. He would trust in God and abide his time. By especial request of the Conference the venerable Bishop sang that beautiful hymn commencing, "My latest sun is sinking fast." His voice was low and tremulous, but the holy cadence of his tones reached every heart, and the eyes of many were suffused with tears.

The consecration services to-morrow at St. Paul's Cathedral, of this city, promise to be very imposing, and will doubtless attract a vast concourse of people. As previously announced, Rt. Rev. T. Mullen, Bishop Elect of Erie, will be consecrated. Rt. Rev. M. Domenec, of the Pittsburgh Diocese, will be Consecrator, assisted by several Bishops and Priests. Rev. S. Wall will preach the sermon, services commencing at ten o'clock.

The United Brethren in Christ have commenced the laudable movement of providing Episcopal parsonages for their bishops. Bishop Glossbrenner communicates through the Religious Telescope, the organ of the denomination, that the East District Episcopal residence is located at Baltimore Md., and will be ready for occupancy in September next. The house is represented to be large and well built and reflects credit upon all concerned in the generous gift.

The Second Presbyterian Church of Baltimore have invited Rev. Thomas Myers, a minister of the M. E. Church, and agent of the Maryland State Bible Society, to fill their pulpit during the absence of their pastor, Rev. George P. Hays, who will be absent several weeks for the benefit of his health.

It is a significant fact that most of the graduates of colleges study law. Sixty per cent. of the graduates of six prominent Colleges and Universities propose the study of law. Medicine, the ministry and teaching obtain the remaining forty per cent. in about equal proportions.

The Philadelphia North American, speaking of the National Camp Meeting at Manheim, says that Mr. George H. Stuart, who was recently suspended from office and membership in the Reformed Presbyterian Church, by the General Synod, was among those present. It says he is in his element among the Methodists; hitherto he has been a Methodist in the Reformed Presbyterian Church.

The Religious Herald (Baptist) announces that thirteen periodicals of the Southern Baptist Church have broken down for want of sufficient patronage.

Rev. J. W. Sloane, of New York, has been elected to a Professorship in the Theological Seminary, Allegheny city. Mr. Sloane is a graduate of Jefferson College, and enjoys a fine reputation as a scholar and preacher.

The Presbytery of Keokuk, of the United Presbyterian Church, resolved that the minimum contribution of each member of the church should be one-tenth of his yearly income, and but few should limit themselves to that amount in view of the abundant blessings with which the land is favored.

How Seymour Takes at New York.

"Burleigh," the New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, relates the following little incident, which shows how things are working at the metropolis: "I was present at Barris' on Saturday, the dining place where merchants and lawyers congregate. There happened to be quite a number of active politicians present, representing both sides. Though the thermometer was above ninety, the discussion became quite animated. Among the company was a distinguished lawyer, who was quite opposed to General Grant. He was addressed by a person present, who said, "You take the stump for Seymour, I suppose?" "Well, you will support the Democratic nominee, you are so bitter against Grant?" "I don't like Grant, but I shall vote for him." He added: "Gentlemen, I am the personal friend of Horace Greeley. When the mob, ten thousand strong, hooted and howled around the Tribune building and threatened to tear it down, I was inside prepared to defend it. I am considered one of the best rifle shots in America. I never miss my mark. I saw Governor Seymour stand in the midst of that excited crowd, addressing his friends. I covered his heart with my rifle. I could both hear and see him from my window. I made up my mind that if that crowd came from his speech to attack the building, I would bring him to the ground, and I should have done it, for my ball never misses. What I saw that day was quite enough for me, and he shall have no influence that I can bring to bear."

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should t once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Liuretic or Backache Pills

Can be relied on for these purposes; they have a direct influence on the cells of the kidneys, assists nature in relieving them of any foreign particles, and stimulates them to a healthy and vigorous action

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Contain nothing injurious, being composed of entirely vegetable remedies; they do not sicken nor gripe—on the contrary they act as a gentle tonic and restores tone to the system, They are recommended by all who who have tried them.

SWINGING ROUND THE CIRCLE.

There are fifty ways of alleviating the agonies of dyspepsia for the moment; but there is only one way to CURE it. After "swinging round the circle" of temporary palliatives the patient finds that the disease, so far from being subdued, has actually gathered strength, while he has been parleying with its symptoms.

The only way to get rid of the demon is to endow the stomach with sufficient strength to cast it out and keep it out. Impart permanent energy to the digestive organs with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and the object is accomplished. This powerful vegetable remedy is not a mere stimulant. It does not brace up the gastric machinery for an hour or two, leaving it, when the temporary excitement has passed off, in a worse state than before. Such is the effect of the ordinary alcoholic nostrums. They keep the stomach in a perpetual see-saw between unnatural activity and utter relaxation. Not so the BITTERS. Medicated with the finest tonic, alterative and anti bilious extracts, they permanently reinforce and continuously regulate the assimilating organs. Such is the experience of tens of thousands. At this debilitating season of the year, when the solvent principle of the gastric juice is weakened by a constant drain of the animal fluids through the pores, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is an article of prime necessity for the weak. To neglect the use of a tonic and alterative, so wonderfully efficacious and entirely harmless, is simply to forego the blessing of health and vigor, and voluntarily accept feebleness and discomfort in their stead.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculair mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

WANTED—IMMEDIATELY—All who are looking for business to call and examine the

Hydraulic Cow-Milker,

"A sure cure for acheing hands and kicking cows." It milks the four teats of a cow at once. It imitates the calf, draw, and stops drawing to swallow. It will milk any cow perfectly dry in three minutes. It is operated by hand, dog, horse or other power. One man can attend several machines, milking as many cows at once. It is simple, durable and self-adjusting; will fit any cow. Milks three-teated cows as well as any. Easily worked, not liable to get out of order, and has proven by practical use to be more agreeable to the cow than hand-milking. A rare opportunity is now offered to enterprising men either to travel or locate in city or country. Call and examine for yourselves.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 31, 1868.

Gold was strong early in the day at 145¼, but at the close it declined to 144⅞, rather weak. The decline is due to a prospect of increased export of cereals, and a disposition to stave off purchases of gold until the exports of cotton have commenced. A powerful clique is at work at present to take up all the cash gold offering for the purpose of running up the premium; lots of from one to five millions have been offered to-day, but the bears are shy, and prefer to await the proper moment.

Government bonds are very dull and inactive, and have declined to-day on unfavorable news from England. The new funding bill is criticised very severely by the English press, and the effect on the Continent may result in the return of bonds, or at least, blocking the market there for the sale of our securities during a period when we need all the money we can borrow, although at an enormous interest. We simply pay the penalty for our follies committed during the early period of the war. Everybody believed and was made to belive that we were a prosperous nation during a war for existence, and that we were an exception to all the world; history was no warning to our leaders in the national councils nor to the press. Everybody thought he was accumulating money, (riches) but it were debts that were heaped up, and it took even three years since the war to convince a large portion of the actual state of our finances. The bulk of the laboring classes do not seem to know it yet, the recent striks are the best proves of this.

Stocks, as usual, when governments suddenly declided, are in demand and higher, and to-day is no exception to it. New York Central and Michigan Southern have declared three per cent. dividends, and these stocks are consequently high. Express shares are firmer.

Money is easy, bnt only for first-class borrowers, with prime undoubted borrowers. Business seems to improve a little.

—Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 31, 1868.

The metal market has given evidence of rather more actively during the past week, the sales in the aggregate being considerably larger than for some weeks previous, and we might say unusually large for this season of the year. The market under the influence of light receipts, and a pretty well reduced supply is somewhat firmer; and grades of iron, which have heretofore been neglected, now find buyers. at low figures, it is true.

In addition to the sales reported, we have intimations of heavy negotiations pending, embracing some four thousand tons of fine charcoal Irons.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 31, 1868.

The general market, if anything are duller than during the early part of the week, which is owing mainly to the uncertainty in regard to values. Operators in flour and grain are very timid, and inclined to do as little as possible until prices are better established. There is a fair jobbing demand for groceries, without however any change in values, and the same remarks will apply to Provisions.

BUTTER—Continues very scarce, and with a good demand, we now quote prime to choice, at 33 to 35—in small packages.

EGGS—In good supply and very dull; we now quote at 18 to 20—the latter figure for fresh packed.

HAY—Was in good supply in Allegheny to-day, and the market was very dull; sales of 42 loads reported at from $20 to $30 for fair to prime, and $14 to $18 for inferior.

POTATOES—Are in better supply, and very dull, being offered at $4 to $4,50 per barrel.

GREEN APPLES—In good supply, and rather dull but unchanged; we continue to quote at $4 to $5 per barrel.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged; millers are offering $2 for new Red though for immediate delivery, $2,05 to $2,10 might be obtained. Oats dull at the recent advance, though the supply is light; we quote small sales in store at 84 to 85c. We hear of contracts having been made for new Oats at 48 to 50, for future delivery. Corn is quiet and nominally unchanged at $1,03 to $1,05 for mixed, and $1,08 to $1,10 for prime Yellow. Rye is dull and nominal at $1,20 to $1,25. No price established for Barley yet.

SEEDS—Crushers, we understand, are willing to contract for new crop Flaxseed at $2—to be delivered within two or three weeks. No movement in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady, with a fair jobbing demand at 13½ to 13¾c for Shoulders; 16 to 16¼c for Ribbed, and 18 to 18¼c for Clear Sides, and 20½ to 21c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is firm at 18½c, for prime kettle rendered. Mess Pork, $29. Dried Beef, 21 to 21½c.

CHEESE—Is unchanged at 13 to 14 for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 15 to 16 for Ohio Factory, and 18 to 20 for Sweitzer, as to quality.

SALT—Is dull and nominally unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

LARD OIL—Is unchanged at $1,15 for No. 2, and $1,40 for No. 1.

PIG LEAD—Sales at 10½c.

LIME—Sales at $2 per bbl.

FLOUR—The Flour market is dull and very unsettled, so much so that it is difficult to give prices. There are a great many different grades of both old and new, and dealers appear to be doing the best they can regardless of each other.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 31, 1868.

CRUDE—The market although firm, was very much neglected to-day, the attention of most of the dealers being absorbed in learning the result of a disastrous fire at Oil City. From all that we could learn, there is nothing in the fire to influence the market, as it was believed that the amount of oil consumed would not exceed over a few thousand barrels. There was not a single sale reported, though a firmer feeling existed, with 14c, offered, and 14¼ to 14½c asked, for next month, seller's option.

REFINED—The market for Refined oil although quiet, was considerably stronger to-day, and particularly was this the case in the afternoon, after it had been ascertained, that Antwerp had advanced to 52 francs. We can report sales of 1,500 bbls spot at 33½; 500 do do at 33¾; and 1,000, 500 each for October and November at 35. Late in the afternoon 33⅞ was bid for spot, and the last half of August was quoted at 35. As will be seen from the above an advance of from ¼ to ½ has been established, though it is alleged that there are but very good buyers at the advance.

ARRIVALS—The following are the arrivals of oil to-day:

In connection with the report, Mr. Brush resented an ordinance fixing the representation in Council in accordance with the pportionment.

Mr. Mawhinney, of Sixth ward, said the sessor of his district, owing to a misunerstanding, had not made a proper reurn of taxables, having omitted aliens and male taxables. Mr. A. Scott, from the Seventeenth ward, d their Assessor had made a like misake, and moved an additional member be owed them.

The motions were not entertained, not ing seconded, and the ordinance as reorted was adopted, the rules having been spended.

Mr. Brush offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Controller be and is hereby authorized to issue his certifiate on the Mayor for a warrant in favor of haels, Albertson & Co. for $143.33, and rge the same to appropriation No. 13, ingent Fund.

ne resolution was adopted.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

SAFETY FIRE JACKET.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR

THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be adpted to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, facteries, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above inventions; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

City Councils.—The proceedings of City Councils will be found on the seventh page of this morning's GAZETTE.

Grant Club.—The Republicans of the Sixth ward will meet at the Ann street School House this evening to perfect the organization of the Grant Club in that ward. A full attendance is desired.

Surety of the Peace.—Mary T. Harding and M. C. Harding made information before Alderman Irwin of Lawrenceville, against Leopold Hart, for surety of the peace. Hart was arrested and held for a hearing.

No Choice Yet.—The indefatigable Conferees of the Twenty-third Congressional District met again yesterday morning, at Freeport, and after balloting fifty-six times without coming to any decision, adjourned until to-day at 9 a. m.

New Gas Main.—Workmen are engaged in laying a new gas main along North avenue, Allegheny, the old one, which is three inches in diameter, being altogether too small. The new main will be double the capacity of the old one, removed.

Disorderly.—John Sullivan, it is alleged, behaved himself in a very disorderly manner in Alderman Thomas' office yesterday, in consequence of which he was fined, and in default of payment committed to jail. He was afterwards released on payment of the fine.

Committed.—Alderman McMasters yesterday, in default of bail, committed Wm. Sarber, charged with false pretence on oath of N. U. Shaffer.

Justice J. P. Heisel, of East Birmingham, committed Jacob Beeler on an information for surety of the peace, preferred by Godfreid Zang.

Slight Fire.—Between eleven and twelve o'clock on Thursday evening a shed covering a brick kiln, owned by Mr. Cochran, in the Sixth ward, Allegheny, took fire and was destroyed. An alarm was sounded from box No. 3, corner of Washington street and Beaver avenue, which brought the Fire Department promptly to the ground, but no water was thrown.

Assault and Battery.—John Sullivan made information before Alderman Thomas yesterday, charging Margaret Barrett with assault and battery. The parties reside in the Sixth ward, and it appears that the prosecutor went into the yard occupied by the defendant to borrow a wheel barrow, when he was commanded by her to leave the premises, and on refusing to obey the command was struck on the head with a brick. The accused was arrested and held to bail for her appearance at Court.

Outrageous.—James McAnallan, an old man, was attacked at the Soho bridge, yesterday, by Pat Leonard, who beat and abused him in an outrageous manner. Leonard, it appears, was drunk and had no other inducement than the wicked and malicious promptings of a depraved heart to treat Mr. McAnallan, who is a civil and inoffensive man, so roughly. Information was made before Alderman Thomas, charging Leonard with assault and battery, and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Runaway Accident.

Thursday evening about twelve o'clock, while two young men were on their way to the city, returning from a pleasure drive to East Liberty the horse attached to the buggy in which they were seated took fright and ran away, throwing them both out of the vehicle. Tney were found on the roadside yesterday morning and brought to Lawrenceville by Mr. Jonas Smith, where they are now receiving medical treatment. One of them had his left leg broken and the other had one of his hip bones dislocated, while both were otherwise severely bruised. Their injuries though painful, are not considered dangerous.

Robbery of a Hardware Store.

At an early hour yesterday morning some thieves entered the hardware store of Mr. Frank Simpson, on the corner of Ohio street and the Diamond, Allegheny. An entrance into the establishment was effected by the removal of the grating over one of the cellar windows on the side fronting the Diamond. Once in the cellar, the rest of the work was comparatively easy. Placing a large box underneath the hatchway they raised it and thus gained admission to the store room. The operators apparently finding the safe invulnerable turned their attention to other things, and carried off a considerable amount of booty. No clue to the perpetrators has been obtained.

Resisting an Officer.

Arthur Graham and William Sarver were brought before Mayor Drum yesterday morning, charged with disorderly conduct and resisting on officer. It was alleged by officer Graham, of the Allegheny police, that while lighting the gas lamps in the Second ward on Thursday evening he heard a noise in a tavern near by, kept by Francis Byrne. Going up to the tavern he found Graham and Sarver engaged in a pugilistic encounter and creating considerable disturbance. He attempted to arrest Graham, who resisted, but was being overpowered when Sarver came to the rescue of the prisoner. Both parties set upon the officer, aided also by several others in the room, but notwithstanding all their efforts, the officer still held on and succeeded in arresting both Graham and Sarver, and lodged them in the lockup. At the hearing the Mayor fined the offenders twenty-five dollars and costs. Graham paid up but Sarver being "short" was sent to jail in default for thirty days.

GREAT FIRE AT OIL CITY.

Over One Hundred Buildings Destroyed—Many Families Rendered Houseless—Loss $150,000—Insurance $50,000—List of Principal Losers.

Special dispatches received yesterday announced an extensive fire as having occurred at Oil City, originating at Parker, Thompson & Co's. engine house, and destroying two-thirds of the west side of the town, embracing over one hundred and fifty houses. The fire broke out about half past six in the morning, communicating first to five cars of oil and thence spreading with great rapidity, consuming everything on both sides of Main street from the postoffice to the public school house near the river bank, and rendering houseless about two hundred families. The conflagration lasted five hours.

The oil interests do not appear to have suffered greatly. The heaviest losers are: S. A. Christy, druggist; Dr. Porterfield, residence; Finley & Condi, groceries; Isaac Blakely, hardware; Winsor Bros., hardware; Hoag & Bro., Jones House; L. D. Kellogg, paints; Western Union Telegraph block; St. Charles Hotel; Chas. Shephard, grocery; Boyle House; Stiffe & Son's bakery; Parker & Thompson, Lockhart & Frew, Pool Bros., and the Lucesco Landing were burned.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OIL CITY, PA., July 31.

At seven o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the storage yard of Parker, Thompson & Co., caused by a spark from the engine falling into some oil. The flames soon communicated to a number of tank cars on the railroad siding in the yard, and to the adjoining buildings, sweeping everything before it from the Postoffice to the National Hotel, and from the foot of the hill to the edge of the river, burning several boats in the river. The amount of the damage cannot now be correctly estimated, but it is very heavy. Among the property destroyed was Christy's drug store, the Jones Hotel, both the Western Union and the Atlantic & Pacific telegraph offices, and eight or ten new and second hand engines in the yard of Clark & Goodwin. A great many goods were removed from burning buildings and afterward destroyed in the streets, the fire spreading so rapidly that their removal was impossible. A portion of the track of the Atlantic & Great Western Railway was destroyed, but a strong force of workmen are engaged in re-building it, and will have it ready in a short time.

The timely arrival of the Fire Department of Franklin, with their steamer, contributed largely to the saving of the lower portion of the town. The opinion is that there is not much oil burned, though it is impossible to tell at present the loss in this line. There were but three tanks in the fire, only one of which was full, but as they are still standing, it is supposed they are all right. They cannot be reached yet on account of the burning timbers.

Among the heaviest losers by the conflagration are Pool Brothers, Lockhart & Frew, and J. A. Christy. G.

[By Associated Press.]

OIL CITY, July 31.—One of the most disastrous fires that ever visited the oil regions occurred here at seven o'clock this morning, destroying both sides of Main street from the postoffice to the National Hotel, including the Jones House, St. Charles Hotel, Bergh House, Western Union and P. & A. Telegraph offices, Dr. Porterfield's residence, in all two hundred buildings, rendering homeless nearly as many families. The oil interests suffered but very little.

OIL CITY, July 31.—The loss by the fire will probably reach $100,000; insurance about $50,000.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

In the bankruptcy branch of this Court yesterday morning a petition was filed by William Harrison, asking that John D. Grey, of Pittsburgh, be declared a bankrupt. The creditor sets forth in his petition that J. D. Grey is indebted to him in the sum of $1,144 65, included in three promissory notes. It is further averred in the petition that the debtor, on the 14th of July, inst., transferred to George W. Hailman two tracts of land, situate in the Twenty-third ward, together with the buildings erected thereon, consisting of a rolling mill, tin works, ten dwelling houses and other improvements, with intent to delay his creditors in recovering their claims. This transfer, the deed of which is recorded in the Recorder's office, is alleged as an act of bankruptcy under the law. A rule was granted requiring the respondent to appear on the eighth day of August, to show cause why the prayer of the petitioning creditor should not be granted.

MORTGAGES.

Same day twenty-two mortgages were filed.

Murderous Assault.

We clip the following from the Clarion Democrat: "On Wednesday, the 8th inst., a villain entered the house of Mr. B. A. McClosky, (better known as "Barney McClosky,") in Farmington township, and almost killed a young lady, and tried to rob the house. Mrs. McClosky was absent, visiting her friends in Philadelphia, and Miss Anna, a sister of Mr. McClosky, was keeping house. While he was at work in a field, about nine o'clock, A. M., and Miss McClosky in the house alone, a man with an axe in his hand and a knife in his belt, entered, and told her if she made any noise while he was searching the house he would kill her. She immediately locked the room door, when the robber, finding he could not frighten her, struck at her throat three times with a knife. She protected herself with her hands, which were badly cut. He then knocked her down with the axe, and while she was lying insensible, he burst open the room door and searched the house, but got no money. Before he left the room Miss M. became conscious, and ran out and screamed, which brought her brother to her aid; but before he got into the house the villain had escaped, and no clue to his whereabouts has since been obtained. Miss McClosky was severely injured, and was delirious several days. She is now in a fair way to recover. The affair caused a great excitement, and a large number of persons went in search of the criminal. Had they caught him, the nearest tree would have served for his gallows. About a week ago three men called at the same house and compelled Miss McClosky—who was also then alone—to get them dinner. She recognized the man who came the last time as being one of those who had been there before.

"This is one of the greatest outrages that ever occurred in this county, and we hope the perpetrator will be brought to justice."

Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—This excellent place of amusement will open for a season of seven nights this evening under the management of the old veteran, Joseph C. Foster. The entertainment will consist of pantomimes and light comedies. The season will doubtless be a profitable one, as our citizens still retain a kind remembrance of Mr. Foster, whose excellent management of the old Theatre years ago was a source of so much pleasure and amusement.

MASONIC HALL.—A dramatic entertainment will be given at Masonic Hall this evening, in which a number of amateur performers will participate. The entertainment will be a good one, and it will dpubtless be well patronized.

Railroad Accident—A Passenger Train Wrecked—The Injured.

Yesterday morning the Pittsburg Fort Wayne & Chicago express train which leaves here at 9:40, while running at the usual rate of speed, was thrown from the track at Birmingham station, about six miles below the city. The accident is supposed to have been caused by the placing of some large spikes on the track by several boys who were noticed playing in the vicinity just before the train came along. The locomotive made a plunge against the hillside and was completely wrecked. The baggage and passenger cars were thrown off on the opposite side of the track, making a narrow escape from going over the embankment into the river, and being damaged to a considerable extent by the crushing together The train was pretty well filled with passengers, but fortunately none were killed and but one or two injured. The engineer, Mr. William Tabor, had his right arm fractured, and suffered other painful injuries, though none of them were of a fatal character. He was conveyed to his residence on Franklin street, Sixth ward, Allegheny, where he is receiving proper medical attention. Among the passengers, one had his hand cut by a piece of glass in a broken window, and another was slightly bruised about the head and on other parts of his body, but neither of them are dangerous. The ten o'clock accommodation train from Allegheny arrived at the scene of the accident a short time after it had occurred, and conveyed the people and baggage back to the depot, from whence most of them took the two P. M. train and proceeded on their journey. The track is temporarily obstructed by the wreck, but vigorous efforts are being made to clear it off, and it will be ready for use to-day.

Dillenger & Stevenson.

We elsewhere present to our readers in town and country the business card of this well established, well known and extensive Commission and Forwarding House. They are largely engaged in the factorage of flour, grain and other produce. Our country friends having occasion to try the Pittsburgh market would do well to avail themselves of the experience and business tact of commission merchants so indulgent, active and faithful as Dillenger & Stevenson. They are constantly advised by their correspondents of the state and prosperity of all the markets East, West and North. Their ample capital enables them to make liberal advances on consignments when required. This firm has also in store a fine stock of the best brands of brandy, wines and other liquors, of guaranteed purity. We advise our readers to touch not, taste not, handle not, these beverages—but as we know some of them will not heed this advice, the next best thing is to use only the best qualities, such as may be found at Dillinger & Stevenson's, No. 87 Second street, Pittsburgh.

The Peoples' Saving Bank.

Our readers will be interested with the official statement of the financial condition of this recently organized savings bank. The amount of paid-ap capital and of deposits and of accumulated interest and premiums demonstrate clearly that the institution is not only a safe depository of the savings of the people, but that its affairs are so managed that every dollar deposited will surely earn for its owner a liberal interest. This bank is further and specially commended to popular confidence and favor in the excellent character, business experience and well-known integrity of its President, Vice President, Treasurer and Board of Trustees, any of whom would be a capable and reliable executor of any trust, however delicate or extensive.

The Iron City College.

Having recently had an opportunity of testing the merits of this institution, we take pleasure in recommending it to all desirous of obtaining a practical business education. Mr. Ewens is a practical workman and gives special attention to steam fitting and we cheerfully recommend the public to his establishment. Special attention is given to work in the country by Mr. Ewens, and as he employs the most competent workmen our friends, everywhere who entrust work to him will have no cause to regret it. If the heated term is over, the demand for ice cream and summer refreshments still continues as great as ever, and no where in the city will be found a better article, served up in cleaner style, than at the first class saloon of P.
